

Map of Theoretical Concepts (March 2012)

The map presents the current projects of the CIM research group Reflexive Practices of Organizing as metro-lines. The stops indicate theoretical concepts which are important to the respective project. Process Theory and Practice Theory form currently the major intersection points between the projects.

- |  |   |
|--|---|
| — Performing Water Markets in Kenya (Tim Lehmann)                       | — Omnisenorsing Ethical Fashion (Kim Poldner)                                   |
| — (Re)assembling a Social Entrepreneurship Movement (Michel Bachmann)       | — Waste Studies (Roy Sellars)  |
| — (Dis)Organizing in the Face of Uncertainty, Risk and Urgency (Björn Müller) | — Counseling and Intervening in Individuals and Organisations (Dörte Resch)       |
| — Organizing Atmospheres (Christoph Michels)                                 | — Design Fiction: Entrepreneurial Strategies in Artistic Creation (Simon Grand) |
| — Coaching as Organizational Practice (Florian Schulz)                       | — Organizing Health Care (Harald Tuckermann)                                    |
| — Organizing the Olympics (Martin Müller)                                   | — (Un)Doing Gender in Nurseries (Julia Nentwich)                               |
| — Performing Organizations! Creativity (Chris Steyaert)                    | — Identity Constructions of Ex-Consultants (Patrizia Hoyer)                  |
| — Disclosing New Worlds (Laurent Marti)                                     |   |